Call for Artists

International Performance & Dance Festival

The performance art depot's International Performance & Dance Festival is going into its 12th season in 2020! We, the pad team, again invite artists from all around the world to perform in Mainz, Germany, in MAY, 2020!

We offer:

- A unique international festival that is small in scale but high in profile and welcoming in atmosphere.
- The pad team. The committed team has 12 years experience with the organization of festivals, guest performances and own projects and provides a platform for introducing innovative, experimental theatre, dance, performance, live art and other forms of contemporary performing arts.
- An interested and open audience. Press as well as curators and artistic directors of other festivals and theatres will be invited.
- A modest performance fee of 100,- € for each performer, max. 300,- € per group and travel expense allowance. We also take care of accommodation.

We look for:

- Unusual performance projects with diverse artistic backgrounds: They may rely on light and sound or include video art, digital art, multi-media and/or be grounded in the physical, in choreography or dance.
- Productions that are adaptable to an unusual stage with basic technical standard.
- Small teams that should ideally consist of no more than five people. Please be prepared to travel via low price airlines or other low cost travel opportunities.
- Because of the thematic focus of 2020 cultural summer RLP on Northern Europe, we will favor applications from this region!

Applications via e-mail to the address below which include a brief CV or portrayal of your company, project description and online video documentation of your performance – preferably longer continuous material. Without this we can unfortunately not invite you. Please DO NOT send high-resolution photos due to our mail capacity.

Deadline for sending in applications is Saturday 30th October 2019!

Curious? Interested? The pad team is looking forward to receiving your applications!

Please send your applications to festivalteam@pad-mainz.de
